The screenshot shows the DBeaver Community website. The header includes the DBeaver logo, the text 'DBeaver Community', and the tagline 'Free Universal Database Tool'. There are social media links for GitHub (30,112 stars), Facebook, and Twitter. A search bar is also present. The navigation menu includes links for Home, About, Download, Sources, Documentation, News, Support, DBeaver PRO, and CloudBeaver. The main content area is titled 'Download' and is divided into two columns. The left column is for 'DBeaver Community 22.3.3', which was released on January 23rd, 2023. It is free and open source. The right column is for 'DBeaver PRO 22.3', released on December 12th, 2022. Under the 'Windows' section for the Community edition, there is a list of download options: 'Windows (installer)' (highlighted with a red box and a red arrow), 'Windows (zip)', 'Install from Microsoft Store', and 'Chocolatey (choco install dbeaver)'. Under the 'Mac OS X' section, there are links for 'MacOS for Intel (dmg)', 'MacOS for Apple Silicon (dmg)', and instructions for using Homebrew and MacPorts. The 'Enterprise Edition features' section lists support for various NoSQL databases (MongoDB, Cassandra, InfluxDB, Redis, Amazon DynamoDB, Amazon DocumentDB, Amazon Keyspaces, Amazon Timestream, Google Bigtable, Couchbase, CouchDB, Yugabyte) and advanced extensions like EnterpriseDB.
